[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]

ST. PETERSBURG, September 4.—The Russo-Chinese military and economic situation in the Orient causes grave concern. In answer to the Chinese mobilization in Northern Manchuria, the Russian minister of war has decided to strengthen the garrisons at Blagovestchensk, Nikolaiusk, and the frontier station of Manchuria until each possesses an army corps, and the first two positions are supplied with adequate equipment. These steps are required to protect Russia's exposed force in Southern Ussurisk. Meanwhile the duplication of the Trans-Siberian Railroad is being pressed forward. There is similar military activity at Vladivostok, where the troops are now working in earth defenses.

Among the police notices issued by the minister is an order to seize and destroy revolutionary publications printed in America in the Lithuanian language and now being circulated in the Russian Western provinces. According to a dispatch received here from Harbin, the new German consul there has instructed German subjects not to pay taxes. This, it is explained, is in conformity with the attitude adopted by the United States.

Czar to Visit Moscow.
For the first time in six years the Czar will visit Moscow next week. The ancient capital of the empire is already prepared for a brilliant spectacle, and the occasion will witness a further step in the adopted policy of Nicholas of emerging into publicity. Gala arches are being built between the Nikolaevsk Station and the Kremlin and 30,000 schoolchildren will line the route.

The Czar will be greeted by Mayor Nicholas Gutchkoff, a brother of the German leader in the Duma, and will receive the traditional bread and salt and address of welcome. He will drive to the Kremlin, where after a religious service at the tomb of his uncle, the Grand Duke Sergei, he will address a delegation of nobles, Zemstvo representatives, and peasants from the famous red gate of the Kremlin, which is a historic spot for personal messages from the Czar to the people.

He will be accompanied by Premier Stolypin, M. Iswolsky, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and other members of the Cabinet, and it is expected that his declaration will be in progressive terms, maintaining the tone of his last at Pottava, where he said the Russians had outlived their ardent hopes and were entering upon a period of development when life and service of the country should be easier for all.

In his journey southward to the Crimea the Czar will receive a delegation of harvesters. Already elaborate protective measures are being taken. The Czarina had a recurrence of her neuritis during the recent sultry weather, but it is known that there is nothing constitutionally or organically the matter with her health.

COUNT'S BRIDE AN ACTRESS

Appeared as One of the Maxim Girls in "The Merry Widow."

LONDON, September 4.—The mystery attaching to the identity of Wanda Lott, the bride of Count Ostheim, formerly her presumptive to the Grand Duke of Saxony, has been cleared up by the discovery that, under her stage name of Wanda Zatters, she appeared for many months as one of the Maxim girls in a London production of "The Merry Widow." She was merely a show girl, without a speaking part, but tall, clever, extremely good looking and of genial manners. Count Ostheim first met her on the continent. Learning that she was desirous of going on the London stage, he exercised his influence to that end.

The close of the summer tourist season witnesses the usual rush of Americans to secure homeward passage, with the result, also usual, that many are disappointed and compelled to prolong their stay in England indefinitely. The shipping companies are nowhere near able to provide sufficient accommodations to meet the demand. Every big company has a long list of persons eager to seize the first opportunity to cross.

The Social Whirl.
The 1st of September proved disastrous to numerous Americans appointing to numerous American appointments in Scotland. Partridge shooting this year began on that day, but the birds were rarer than ever before. It seems that wet weather had wrought havoc among the season's young. The Marquis De Ganay and W. K. Vanderbilt have taken a shooting lodge together, with William Waldorf Astor and his family among their guests.

Mrs. Amor Moore is entertaining largely at Strathparker, where she has taken a place until mid-October. The Earl and Countess of Suffolk have settled in Ross-shire. Mr. and Mrs. David Beattie are their guests.

At Mrs. James Smith's place, Dingwall, preparations are in progress for the Stewart-Braganza wedding, which will be a somewhat quiet affair.

The Chamberlains will stay at Skibo until October. Mrs. Carnegie is in great demand as an opener of bazaars, while Mr. Carnegie is doing considerable business on the estate, selling timber and sending salmon to the London market for sale.

Mrs. Grace is entertaining at Balmfin Castle, assisted by her daughter, the Countess of Donoughmore.

Sea Season Is Over.
As the King returns from Marlborough to-day, "cure season" is over, and many Americans will leave the continent.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, who is much better for her rest at Mannheim, will join her husband for a yachting cruise. The Countess of Stafford will cruise along the Norwegian coast for several weeks.

Mrs. Joseph Stickney will return to America shortly, and Mrs. William Leeds will sail this week.

All possibility of a reconciliation between the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough seems ended. A friend of the duke says that he is most anxious for a reconciliation, but that the duchess, who is more popular than ever, refuses. She has been making many country-house visits, but manages to spend considerable time with her son at Dancourt.

American costumes at continental resorts have caused much newspaper comment. Mrs. Lawrence Townsend and Miss Yznaga at Marlborough, Mrs. Baldwin at Carlisle and Mesdames Carroll and Van Wyck at Trouville, are mentioned as remarkable for their superb gowns.

RUSH FOR HOME

Tourist Season Over, Americans in Europe Start Back.

BERLIN, September 4.—The first big cargo of homing Americans left Bremen on Tuesday on the steamer Kronprinzessin Cecilie. Among them were Ambassador Francis, from Vienna, the German ambassador at Washington, George J. Gould and family; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Cramp, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Phillips, of New York; Robert W. Patterson, Gustav H. Schwab, Austrian Undersecretary and wife, General C. N. Spitzer, Captain and Mrs. Zolbrietz, Rutherford Trowbridge and Delphin M. Delmas.

Mrs. W. C. Gotschall, of New York, has arrived here and taken a fine apartment in the Thiergarten quarter, where she intends to give a series of winter entertainments.

The complaint that Germany is sending only four small war vessels to take part in the Hudson-Tulon celebration is met here by the statement that Grand Admiral Von Koester, who will be in command, is Germany's greatest naval hero. There are only two grand admirals in the German marine—Von Koester and the Kaiser.

Herbert Knox Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Corporations, is here with his wife and father-in-law, ex-Senator Dietrich, of Nebraska.

Orville Wright and his sister were interested spectators at the autumn parade of the Imperial guard held by the Kaiser on Wednesday. Mr. Wright was a guest of Military Attache Captain Shartle, with Colonel Foreman, of Chicago, and Mrs. Sutro, of New York.

Deceiving Customs Officials.
An American making purchases in Berlin thinks he has discovered a practice which should attract the attention of the American customs authorities. He is hesitating to buy because he would have to pay more than he heard in duties, he was surprised when the tradesman offered to make double invoices, one showing the real price and the other a much lower figure to deceive the customs. Struck by the incident, the American went to several stores and found the storekeeper always ready with a like proposition.

Keen disappointment is felt in German yachting circles at the sweeping victories of the American yachts in the underclass events at Marblehead. "What a single-handed sailor sending the boats all that way." Such is the wall at Kiel. The Kaiser himself is said to be taking the matter to heart. The reason given here for the disaster is that the German boats are too heavy for the light winds of the Massachusetts coast. Just as the American yachts were beaten at Kiel—log light in heavy, choppy waters.

Adolph Mayer, a kinsman of King Menelik of Abyssinia, who is at present in Berlin, has been commissioned by the Abyssinian government to purchase supplies, said to-day that Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt had engaged a house at Khartoum, and was about to send her husband when he comes out of the jungle. According to Mayer, Mrs. Roosevelt intends to spend about two months in Khartoum early in 1910.

WRIGHT FLIES IN BERLIN
Makes Successful Beginning of Trials on Tempelhof Field.

BERLIN, September 4.—Orville Wright made a successful beginning of his exhibition flights on the Tempelhof Field this afternoon. A large throng of a crowd that numbered many thousands. His flight lasted 13 minutes and 53 seconds. He used a new machine made by La Chappelle, in Berlin.

During the flight Mr. Wright maintained a height of about thirty feet, and executed four large circles, each time passing the stand where, among the spectators, were Ambassador Hill and Mrs. Hill. Afterward the aviator displayed his control of the machine by making several sharp circles.

The weather was fine, but on one occasion the aeroplane was blown about to what appeared to be a dangerous extent. The next display will be made on Monday.

JAPAN AND CHINA AGREE
Text of Articles Signed in Peking to Be Made Public.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The foreign office announced today that the agreement between Japan and China was signed in

A Crimean Veteran

Mr. Fred W. Bennett, of West Carthage, N. Y., who is 70 years old, active and vigorous, a veteran of both the Crimean War and the War of the Rebellion, and who has travelled through many countries in South Europe, was cured of heart trouble by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, after doctors and other so-called remedies failed. Mr. Bennett says that as a medicine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey beats all for purity and quality.

MR. FRED W. BENNETT, 70 years old.

Mr. Bennett writes: "I thought I would write and give you my opinion of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I have used liquor for the past 50 years, but not to excess. When in the English army, during the Crimean War, we were allowed three gills per day, and I know it was the means of saving thousands of men's lives during the winter of 1854-5. I came to this country in 1857 and went to work on a farm until 1863. Up till this time I had never seen a sick day, but after serving through the War of the Rebellion I had not been free from heart trouble.

"I have had a great many different doctors, but all to no purpose. Then I commenced using the different brands of whiskey from which I received little or no benefit. When I read of your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I commenced using it, about ten years ago. I don't have any more heart trouble, and for a man 70 years old I feel quite active. I think if people would use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, take less drugs and medicine they would be greatly benefited, enjoy better health and would save money that is paid for doctoring. I have stated the plain facts in my own case and shall be glad to know that others are benefited by using your Pure Malt Whiskey."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey
as a tonic stimulant is one of the greatest strength-givers known to science. It aids in destroying disease germs, and by its building and healing properties assists in restoring tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. It is a wonderful remedy in the treatment and cure of consumption, pneumonia, grippe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low fevers, stomach troubles and all wasting, weakened, diseased conditions, if taken in time.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only—in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist" on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price 50c. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for a free illustrated medical booklet and free advice.

Peking at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The text of the agreement will be published in a few days.

The agreement between the two oriental governments concerns the Manchurian railway concessions and the question has been at issue since early last spring. It was proposed by China that the railway should be submitted to the Hague tribunal, but the idea did not meet with the favor of the Japanese foreign office, and lacking the support of the powers, Peking was compelled to negotiate directly with Tokyo.

It is generally understood that by the terms of the agreement Japan secures control of the Central railroad franchise in Manchuria and the right to construct other lines as well as the privilege of loaning China half of the cost of the railway, the construction of the Kirin railroad to the Korean border.

By the terms of the treaty Japan also acquires the right to work several valuable mines in Manchuria. In return Japan agrees to recognize Chinese sovereignty in the Chientao district, to return the terminus of the Hsienmin railroad to the city of Mukden and pay the indemnity, the amount to be determined later.

SERUM FOR CHOLERA

Salambini's Discovery Declared to Be of Importance.

PARIS, September 4.—Salambini, whose discovery of a serum and vaccine for the treatment of cholera has recently been announced, calls attention to the fact that the serum is not a Russian discovery, as is generally supposed, but is the result of his own researches in the laboratory of the Pasteur Institute.

With reference to the vaccine, Prof. Salambini declared to-day that it was a most important discovery, but he said that it should be employed with the greatest discretion. Moreover, he expressed doubt of the practicability of general vaccination, and still believed that the best method of combating the disease was the adoption of ordinary precautions, such as boiling drinking water and close sterilizing uncooked vegetables.

Salambini convinced him that the highest cholera mortality was among drunken, dissipated, and debilitated persons, and that with all sorts of injections and the greatest interest in medical circles, the disease is generally fatal.

France has just adopted very rigid disinfecting precautions on the frontier. In view of the prevalence of cholera in Holland.

CAGED REBEL IS ILL
Sultan Relies on Expectation of Receiving $1,200,000.

TANGIER, MOROCCO, September 4.—El Roghi, the rebellious subject of the Sultan of Morocco, who was recently carried into Casablanca in an iron cage, is ill, and the Sultan has given orders that he be no longer exposed to the public gaze. It is understood that El Roghi will direct his European bankers to pay over to the Sultan the sum of $1,200,000.

TO PROTECT GAME
Norway and Sweden Ask Assistance of Other Countries.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 4.—Pending the final settlement of the situation in Finland, growing out of the fact that it is "no man's land," the Norwegian and Swedish governments, realizing the urgent necessity of immediate measures for the conservation of game in that territory, have agreed to take joint action toward provisionally bringing about such measures. As a preliminary and as a result of the fact that the slaughter of game is caused by passengers on tourist steamers, Norway and Sweden have requested the United States, Great Britain and Germany to take adequate action in the matter, to restrict the right to carry guns and ammunition on the tourist steamers, and to forbid the use of launches on hunting trips.

It appears there are no tourist steamers from this country traveling to Spitzbergen now, but the Department of Commerce and Labor will inform owners of private yachts and other vessels likely to go in that direction of the efforts of the Norwegian and Sw-dish governments, so that those aboard may abstain from depredations on the island. The German government has given similar notice to tourist vessels.

It is probable that the German government has already started to do anything effectively in the desired direction this season.

MENELIK PROCLAIMS HEIR

Abyssinian Minister Describes Impending Ceremony in Abyssinia.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 4.—Hoffman Philip, the minister resident at Addis Ababa, has just returned from the State Department, and informs the State Department, under date of July 27, 1909, that the nomination of Lij Yassu, the grandson of Emperor Menelik, as the successor to the Ethiopian throne, was definitely promulgated to the Abyssinian people by means of a proclamation issued by the Emperor on May 15 last through the Abyssinian Minister of War and president of the Ethiopian Ministry of State. Mr. Philip states that all the more important governors, nobles and chiefs throughout the country have been summoned to Addis Ababa for the ceremony, and that a great assemblage was held in an open space near the town for the reading of the proclamation. Mr. Philip added that neither the King nor the Queen attended the ceremony, but that Lij Yassu, the heir apparent, was present. None of the foreign representatives attended, all the legations at Addis Ababa having been officially notified some months previously that Lij Yassu would succeed to the throne.

High Court at Staunton Refuses to Repeal Their Petition.
STAUNTON, Va., September 4.—The State Supreme Court to-day not only refused to grant a writ of error in the case of Roanoke, in connection with their attempt to prevent a local option election, here September 16, but also refused to receive their petition. The election was ordered some weeks ago by Judge Staples, and the voters sought to get an injunction to stop the election. Roanoke voted dry last December, but the election was set aside by the courts.

IN MEMORIAM

BROWN.—In loving remembrance of our dear mother, MRS. MAGGIE E. BROWN, who fell asleep in Jesus one year ago, September 5, 1908.

Time cannot efface from the memory a picture of her identity, nor from our hearts lessons she has taught. Duty was her watchword, and service had a charm. Tender-hearted marks her ministry, and love her way surrounds.

Dearest mother, we have never ceased to miss thee. Since thy death, pure and gentle, slipped from earth away. We have never ceased to miss thee. Since that autumn's dreary day. When the sombre hours so slowly bore thy well-loved form away.
